

AMELIA CHANDLER - URBAN DESIGNER

Amelia Chandler is an urban designer with 15 years experience in urban design, architecture, planning and landscape architecture; she has worked in both the public and private sectors of the industry.

With experience working on projects across Sydney and regional NSW, the UK and Taiwan, Amelia has a working knowledge of the day to day issues involved in running projects, managing consultant teams and providing a comprehensive and responsive consultancy service to clients. She has worked on a range and scale of sites included greenfield sites, urban infill and renewal projects, developed and tested concept designs, master plans, design controls and provision of planning advice.

Amelia enjoys delivering multi-faceted strategies, providing clients with the tools and vision to create quality places and experiences. Understanding the physical, cultural and political forces and development processes that comprise sites and projects are critical to Amelia's role as an urban designer.
